VOLTZ OIL CO. SELLS 50 STATIONS

Over $500,000 Is Paid By Tidewater Oil

Fifty service stations of the Voltz Oil Co., of Bristol, were sold to the Tidewater Oil Co. for a price reported over $500,000 in a sale completed yesterday. The transaction was announced by Albert M. Greenfield and Co., Philadelphia realtors.

The stations are located in Lower Bucks and Montgomery Counties. Paul C. Voltz, of Langhorne Manor, head of the Voltz Oil Co., today emphasized that he is remaining in business as a fuel oil dealer, as Calso distributor for the two counties and as operator of 20 service stations in Upper Bucks and Montgomery Counties.

The Voltz distribution plants are located on State Road near Route 413, Bristol Township, and in Lansdale.

The stations changing hands are located in Bristol, Tullytown, Emille, Langhorne, Trevose, Cross Keys, Warminster, Newtown, Hulmeville, Pennell, Cornwells Heights, Norristown, Glenside and Horscham.

A spokesman for the Greenfield firm said the acquisition of the Voltz stations is part of Tidewater's expansion program along the east coast. Tidewater recently opened a $200,000,000 refinery at Delaware City, Del.

Tidewater plans to renovate and modernize the newly-purchased stations, a spokesman said.

Good Evening!

High cost of living going higher.

Auto insurance rates hiked tomorrow, 11 per cent on collision and 6 1/2 per cent on personal liability and it's getting tougher and tougher.

And it shouldn't be too long until you begin feeling the impact of that $6-per-ton raise by U.S. Steel.

Hey, wasn't the Republican administration committed a few years back to halting the inflationary spiral? It's been spiraling practically ever since Mr. Ike moved into the White House back in 1953.

Some day, perhaps, we'll have one of our major political parties inspired with enough courage and good sense to begin preaching the realities of life to this country and then trying to practice what it preaches.

If we don't, you might as well figure that this wage-price race will ultimately price everybody out of the very standard of living everybody's trying to upgrade to the skies.

National Safety Council says it's a cinch that 535 Americans will be slaughtered on the highways during the long July 4 weekend.

We know one way to make the Council eat its words: Everybody, yes sir, everybody in the country spend the holiday sitting on the back porch, back yard, patio, or what have you.

Phils come out of the doldrums last night with a five-run explosion in the seventh that beat the Pirates 5-4.

A good sign. Now all the Smith boys have to do is to clobber the Giants twice on Thursday and they'll be back in the thick of it again.

It never fails. Everytime we sneak out of here for three or four days we come back discovering it doesn't matter at all if we didn't come back.

Sandy O. makes us look good—or bad—hard to figure which.

In any event, most travelers want to see America first. All we want is to see it last.

Watch your driving.

May Have To Replant Corn

Farmers In Bucks Face Bad Drought

Cool breezes are taking the edge off the early-summer dry spell but providing little comfort to Lower Bucks County farmers who are faced with a "critical" drought problem.

County farmers may be forced to replant entire fields of corn if relief does not arrive soon, reports Richard Bailey, assistant Bucks County Agriculture Agent.

Bailey points out there has been no serious rainfall since April. "The few showers we have had have been too spotty to be of much use to our farming areas," Bailey said.

The entire area stretching from Dublin and Bedminster to the Delaware River is suffering from the absence of rain.

"There just isn't enough moisture in the ground," Bailey asserted. The effect of the dry spell is particularly apparent in the cornfields where the corn is growing unevenly.

Tomato, string bean, potato and other vegetable crops are taking a licking from the dry spell.

William F. Greenwalt, Bucks County Agriculture Agent, predicts it will take a full inch of rainfall during a 12-hour period to relieve the critical situation.

"The trouble is," Greenwalt pointed out, "the farmers get it from two sides." Not only do they lose income from the crops, they lose the source of most of their feed for farm animals and are forced to go outside and pay top prices for that food.

Greenwalt says irrigation is some help but this too is threatened by the heat spell when wells start drying up. Farmers in some areas may be forced to haul water.

How much the average consumer will be affected by the drought remains to be seen. Modernized delivery systems make it possible for vegetables to be imported from almost any section of the country and there is little likelihood of a serious shortage, Bailey said.

Rainfall during the past month has measured 2.13 inches. The normal for June is 3.87 inches.

Dulles Says:

Russia Will Turn To Democracy

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that free governments eventually will supplant Communist despotism in Russia and Red China.

Dulles told a news conference that changes in the two countries toward free governments eventually will come about by evolutionary or possibly even revolutionary means.

Dulles said, indeed, the trend in the Soviet Union today is toward greater freedom. He said there are more revolutionary elements in the Communist China than in Russia. But he would make no flat predictions or revolution in either country, or when freedom would prevail over Communism.

Dulles also affirmed President Eisenhower's statement on June 19 that Red China would not have to be brought into a worldwide disarmament agreement. He said, however, that a system can be devised which would provide for

Now--France Wants To Try A GI In Slaying

Turns Down U.S. Request For Army Trial

PARIS (UP)—The French have turned down an informal request that they yield to the U.S. Army jurisdiction over an American soldier charged with slaying a French citizen, a well-informed source said today.

The Army now plans to make a formal request in the case of SP-3 C De Wayne McOsker, 21, of 138 Lindberg Ave., Manhasset, Long Island, N.Y.

The soldier's grandparents live at Oak Hill, W. Va., from where he enlisted in the Army.

McOsker is in prison here, charged with "voluntary homicide" in the shooting of Algerian Abdel Ahmed Lianini during an argument last May 25 in the honky-tonk section of Paris.

The American legal moves are designed to bring McOsker before a U.S. courtmartial instead of a French court.

French legal experts said that "in theory" McOsker could be sentenced to death by guillotine if found guilty as charged but in actual practice there is almost no possibility of his getting the ultimate sentence under French criminal law.

They said it was "highly unlikely" the French government would even consider jeopardizing Franco-American relations by ordering the guillotining of a young American soldier.

They said the guillotine is reserved for "hardened criminals." Army officials said McOsker had a "clean" Army record before the shooting.

U.S. officers at the U.S. supply base at Orleans were McOsker was stationed said the soldier "confessed" firing at Lianini in "self defense." They said McOsker and the Algerian got into a dispute over payment for several cartons of American cigarettes the G.I. obtained tax free from the Orleans post exchange.

Judge Grants Delay In Jim Norris Case

NEW YORK (UP)—A stay in the execution of injunctions against the monopolistic Jim Norris boxing empire was granted until Nov. 1 by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan today after he issued his final judgment.

40 Audrey Victims Will Share Grave

LAKE CHARLES, La. (UP)—The hurricane Audrey death toll soared to nearly 300 today and officials planned to bury 40 more unidentified disaster victims in a common grave.

Calcasieu Parish Sheriff Henry Reid said late Monday night 285 bodies have been recovered from the southwestern Louisiana area around Cameron, south of Lake Charles on the Gulf of Mexico.

Search Still Continues: More than 40 unidentified bodies, mostly Negroes, were to be buried in a common grave today. Sixty-six other unidentified victims of the hurricane and tidal wave were buried in two common graves Monday.

Other bodies, identified and claimed by friends or relatives, (Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

Ghana Interest Picking Up, But Money Is Still Needed

Operation Ghana is picking up interest and fund donations at a good rate, but it still is a long way from its final goal, said Marius Livingston, director, today.

"The Ghana committee and a great many Pennsylvania High School students are working hard every day to raise the difference between the $2,000 we have and the $7,200 we will need for the trip to Ghana," he said.

Citing the "generous contributions from various groups and individuals," Mr. Livingston expressed the committee's thanks for the biggest single boost yet $1,600 from the Supervisor's Club of the Fairless Steel plant. He also expressed thanks for $100 received from Lenox China, Inc., of Trenton, and $25 from the Falls Township Civic Association, which were among the latest received.

Books On Way

The books that were collected for shipment to Ghana are en route, having left New York on Sunday. They are expected to arrive in Africa in time for presentation by the student delegation.

Students who will make the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Livingston include: Mary Dell Kahle, Yardley; Steve Riech, Yardley; Bob Troutman, Fallsington; Virginia Fritz, Fallsington, and Rosanna Giordano, Lower Makefield. The Livingstons are residents of Levittown.

After a tour of several European cities they will spend a week in Ghana as "friendship ambassadors from the students of America" to the newest country of the free world.

It has been announced that the "Voice of America" will cover the trip and the official welcome that is planned in the Ghanaian city of Accra. In addition, several TV programs have expressed interest in coverage, including the Taylor Grant Show and "Tonight."

More Than 200 Give Marty $1,098

With eight more contributors today, the total of organizations and individuals contributing to the Marty Brennan Fund pushed well over the 200 mark.

The Levittown boy, whose arm was amputated following an accident, has $1098 in his fund to pay for his education at Notre Dame.

Four Fairless Hills youngsters, Lydia Kropoff, Paul Kropoff, Peter Kropoff and Jimmy Strang, turned in $64.23 after a door to door collection for the fund.

Margaret's Ireland Invitation Starts New Romance Rumors

LONDON (UP)—Lord Patrick Beresford, who has been Princess Margaret's favorite escort of the current social season, was reported today to have invited her to Ireland to attend a wedding. The reports already were causing a stir.

The handsome Irish peer, 23, who is nearly four years the princess' junior, was a guest of the royal family at Windsor Castle during Royal Ascot Week and accompanied Margaret to the races. Since then he has taken her to theaters and private parties.

Reports said he had invited her to his ancestral home in Ireland July 23 to attend the wedding of his brother, the Marquess of Waterford, who is marrying Lady Caroline Wyndham-Quinn.

Sources close to the princess said she had been invited. Buckingham Palace sources said such an invitation would be "private" and that they could give no information. The bridegroom's mother and the bride's aunt said Margaret had not been invited.

Court observers said the security risk alone would bar a visit.

Board Reviews Sewer Proposals

The Lower Makefield Township Board of Supervisors talked sewers last night for three hours to more than 50 residents attending the regular meeting of the board.

Committee To Seek New By-Pass Route

The Citizens Committee in Yardley and Lower Makefield, opposing the Yardley by-pass route, will push its work in the direction of a new route for the highway.

William Mackensen, chairman of the committee, said the group will work to accomplish a new route to suggest to the state.

Meet In 2 Years

It was indicated the solution of the problem may be a long time in coming because the legislature will not meet again for another two years.

The state legislature must approve all construction into new territory and the legislature has not approved the route until this time.

Previous plans indicated the state proposed to put the by-pass to the Yardley bridge through the center of the township.

The committee was formed to prevent this from happening or to suggest this alternate for the consideration of the state highway department.

John Eckel and William Van Sytle are the heads of the two committees, legislative and route, of the citizens' group.

Pilot Returns From 'Dead'

CASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UP) — A handsome Air Force pilot lost in the snowy wilderness of the High Sierras for two months said today he is looking forward to a "second honeymoon in Florida" with his wife.

Thin and tired but apparently in good health, Lt. David Steeves, 23, of Trumbull, Conn., was recovering from his ordeal at this central California Air Force base.

Steeves, wearing a luxuriant beard, reached civilization Monday. He told an incredible story of hardship and courage that began May 9 when he bailed out of his T33 jet trainer over Kings Canyon National Park.

"I prayed continuously," he said. "I felt that others must have been praying for me because the Lord must have been guiding my steps."

Forest rangers estimated Steeves must have wandered 100 miles through the most rugged terrain in the Sierras. He had lost 50 to 60 of his 195 pounds.

Fifteen days after he bailed out Steeves came across a small cabin used as an emergency tool shed by the Park Service.

"I was pretty weak by then, but I was sure I'd find some food," he related. "I found a can of beans, a can of ham and some sugar—and wood and matches. I had my first meal in almost 20 days."

Later, Steeves found a couple of rusty fishhooks and some thread. "I used grubs from trees for bait and some days I managed to catch one or two fish."

Steeves also rigged a trap and caught a deer.

"Most of it was eaten before I got to it. That was about June 1. I rationed it for 20 days."

He also ate some wild strawberries and even garter snakes.

U. Makefield To Collect Tax

Charles Lindenmayer was appointed last night to collect the one percent construction tax recently instituted by the Upper Makefield School Board.

The action was taken at a board meeting with Mrs. Charlotte Dyer presiding. The tax is a new one recently brought into effect by the school, Mrs. Dyer said, and doesn't affect anyone else.

The one percent tax will be collected on new home units being built in the school district. "We levied the tax to meet the demands of new classrooms brought about by the influx of new homes," Mrs. Dyer said.

Harper J. Ogborn was named board treasurer and a vote of appreciation was given retiring treasurer, Kenyon Brown for work done last year.

Mrs. Dyer said a part-time music and art teacher will be named later this month.

The next board meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 10, at the Woodhill School.

Boro Starts Programs At Playgrounds

Morrisville's summer recreation program kicked off yesterday in the high school playground for youngsters of school age.

James E. Wood, assistant principal at the high school is director of the summer program in the borough.

Various sports, for both boys and girls are being offered at the playgrounds.

Students can register for the program by attending any of the recreation classes at the high school starting at 10 a.m.

Other playground areas in the elementary schools will also be available during the summer for the Morrisville youngsters.

Rescued Woman Tells Of Desert Ordeal

ALPINE, Tex. (UP)—Mrs. Clifford White described today how she filed her nails with stones and kept a calendar by adding pebbles to a row while she was lost for six days in the parched wilds of Big Bend National Park.

Mrs. White, of Houston, was spotted from the air Monday by a search plane pilot and rescued by a ground party. Her first question was about her husband, from whom she had become separated in the scorching, rugged country.

"Tell me, yes or no, is he dead?"

She was told that her husband had been found along a trail apparently dead from heat prostration. He had been trying to reach help after their air conditioned car became stuck in sand.

Court Hearing Set On Building Taxes

A court hearing on abolishing all back taxes on a building in Morrisville at 4 Lenora Ave. is set for August 16.

The old building, last owned by H. L. Margerum, has tax liens on it dating back 20 years.

The borough is attempting to get the back taxes waived to make the building available for resale without the tax burden.

A HOODED CAT

NEW YORK (UP) — A truck loaded with liver stalled on a parkway Monday and between the time the driver got the engine started and stepped on the clutch he found he had a rider. Each time he stepped on the clutch he heard an anguished meow. There under the hood was a liver-lovin' feline.

US 66, a main east-west route, was closed due to floodwaters near Valley Park, and the Pennsylvania Railroad had to reroute its trains over New York Central tracks because of washouts. A total of 14 bridges were washed out in St. Louis County.

Flash floods also hit the Springfield, Mo., area and parts of Kansas. The Saline River overflowed at Tescott, Kan., Monday, and Stranger Creek swelled to become a mile-wide lake near Tonganoxie, Kan., inundating valuable crop land.

TREDFUL OCCURRENCE

BARTON, Wis. (UP) — Eugene Buhne, 13, was run over by a six-ton dump truck Monday—and he's got the tire marks to prove it. Doctors said the marks and minor bruises were his only injuries.

Women To Ask Tax To Support Library

Women of Morrisville, disturbed over the situation regarding the Morrisville Free Library, will present a petition to council next week, asking that a two mill tax be placed on the tax books to support the library.

Petitions are being signed now in the borough and the completed petitions will be presented to council at its regular meeting next Tuesday.

Mrs. Paul Taylor, president of the Morrisville Women's Club, the group which has supported the library by collections, said more than 300 signatures are already on the petitions.

The women's group will ask council to place the question of the two mill tax before the voters by means of a referendum.

The library needs $3000 to operate and $900 was donated by council this year. The rest of the operating expenses, which still fall short of the $3000 needed, came from donations.

Council has voted $500 for the operation of the library in the past but this year when the situation became desperate council gave $900.

Mrs. Taylor said this is still not enough and "the only way we can continue operating is if we get more revenue."

"We feel this two mill tax for the library is a fair way to raise funds," she said.

Persons in Lower Makefield and Yardley and surrounding areas use the facilities of the library as well as Morrisville residents.

The petitions will be circulated throughout the week in an attempt to get as many signatures as possible.

Makefield Group To Seat New Officers

Newly elected officers of the Makefield Civic Association will be installed at the group's regular monthly session next Tuesday.

Henry Hoffmeister, re-elected to his post, will be installed as president of the civic group.

On Meeting Agenda

The association will take under study two matters that have been studied by the officers of the association recently.

Members of the association will consider a stand on the sewer question in the township. The association has made no firm commitment on the sewer situation but desires "further study."

Falls Township and Lower Makefield are considering the forming of a joint authority to build a sewer line.

To Hear Of Trip

The association also will be filled in on trip taken by several members to study the commercial planning in Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

The New York city accomplished lowered taxes by bringing in commercial development on a regulated scale and the same situation may be applied to Lower Makefield Township.

Several members of the association will report to the group on the results of the study.

Chief Warns On Speeding

Morrisville Police Chief John S. Davis warned drivers today "to beware of speeding through the borough."

"A walkie-talkie outfit was purchased and we intend to use it to catch anybody exceeding the speed limit," the chief said.

The speed limit in Morrisville is 25 miles an hour.

Several months ago, Morrisville police operated a walkie-talkie on a test basis and the apparatus proved highly successful in trapping speeders.

At that time the set was borrowed from the Bensalem Township police.

This present outfit was purchased from a radio outfit in Trenton.

Rec Program Is Making Big Hit

Lower Makefield and Yardley teen agers have taken to the recreation program offered by the Yardley-Lower Makefield Recreation Board at Pennsbury High School.

Mrs. C. A. Baldwin, spokesman for the board, said the recreation program has developed faster than hoped for by the group.

Highlight of the program is the teenage interest at the Pennsbury High School, offering everything from arts and crafts to baseball.

More than 15 students have registered for the arts and crafts class being offered in the shop of the high school.

The youngsters are building model planes and boats, book shelves, copper and other metal accessories and jewelry.

One of the features of the Pennsbury program is a daily mixed softball game with the boys and girls together.

Mrs. Baldwin said this one of the features the youngsters look forward to every day.

The classes meet every day from 9 a.m. to noon.

Each day features another class. The arts and craft program highlights the Monday session.

Trenton tennis coach Dan Hagerty teaches that sport on Tuesdays at the high school.

Golf is taught on Wednesdays and archery classes are scheduled for Thursdays. A baseball clinic is listed every Friday.

Lower Makefield and Yardley students, 13 years and over are eligible to register for the program. Registration can be completed at the high school by attending one of the classes.

Lower Makefield Buys New Police Car

Lower Makefield Township purchased a new police car last night and traded in the present car which has almost 85,000 miles on it.

The board of supervisors accepted a bid from J.W. Smith in Morrisville for a 1957 Plymouth car for $1850 and the old vehicle.

No delivery date has been set for the new vehicle but the supervisors will push for delivery as soon as possible because of the condition of the present car.

No acceptable bid was received at the June meeting meeting making the advertising for a new police car necessary again at last night's session.

Swimming is held at the Post Road Pool in Morrisville following completion of the morning's recreation sessions.

Four Legion Men To Attend Convention

Four members of the Sanford Dileto American Legion Post in Morrisville will attend the department convention in Harrisburg next Tuesday, July 9, at Harrisburg.

Robert Farkas, and John Gear will go as delegates from the post and Wesley Evans and Victor Lord will be alternates at the department convention.

At its past meeting, James Onofri was elected as commander of the post.

Other officers elected Wesley Evans, service officer; W. A. Allenbone, junior vice commander; Victor G. Lord, adjutant; Andrew LaRue, financial officer; John E. Gear, chaplain; Herbert LaRue, sergeant at arms; Robert Farkas, judge advocate.

Elected to the executive committee of the post were Mr. Farkas, Robert Weinmer, Robert Cunningham, Wilhelm Weik, and William Ney.

VFW Department Sets Harrisburg Parley

HARRISBURG (UP)—Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, will head a list of speakers at the 33rd annual encampment of the Pennsylvania Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which opens here July 11.

Strauss will address the opening day dinner sponsored by the VFW's Ladies Auxiliary.

Other speakers at the three-day convention include:

Gov. George M. Leader, Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), Cong. James E. Van Zandt, Altoona member of the House Armed Services Committee; Marine Corps Gen. Graves B. Erskine, director, Special Operations, Department of Defense, and Rear Adm. R. S. Edson, head of the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot.

Zone Hearing Is Set Tonight

Morrisville residents will have their say tonight on whether they want a service station at the Morrisville Shopping Center or not.

A zoning hearing on the matter is listed for 8 p.m. at the borough hall.

Edward Mannix, chairman of the borough's ordinance committee, will preside over the meeting.

In order to prevent the Morrisville Shopping Center from leasing the ground at Pennsylvania and Trenton Aves. to the Socony Oil Company, the borough rezoned a commercial area to residential.

The Shopping Center filed a writ of mandamus which awaits court decision in the fall.

Meanwhile, the zoning question is required by law to be aired at a public meeting.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so stricken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretching bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.
